TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1745.

Franckfort, September 15.

I cannot but be entertaining to the Inhabitants of other Countries, to receive a circumſtantial and diſtinct Account of whatever paſſed, with regard to a Tranſaction of ſuch Conſequence, as the Election of an Emperor; and therefore we have collected, in as clear Terms, and in as few Words as poſſible, ſuch a Relation as we thought might prove ſatisfactory upon that Subject. On Saturday laſt the Electoral College held their Twelfth Seſſion; and on Sunday Morning the Quarter-Maſter of the Empire proclaimed the Regulation or Scheme of Policy, which was to take Place during the Reſidence of the Electoral College, and of the Imperial Court in this City; together with the Price of all Sorts of Proviſions, and the Quality of ſuch Perſons as were to be allowed the Uſe of Swords and Canes, with other Things of the like Nature. In the Afternoon all Foreigners quitted the City; and, at the ſame time, the Ambaſſadors from the Electors of Brandenburgh and Palatine retired of their own accord to Hanau. On the Monday, the Day fix'd for the Election, as ſoon as the great Clock ſtruck Six, the Guard of Townſmen, and the Garriſon, began to move, and ſoon occupied their Poſts in the Avenues of the Guildhall, in other publick Places of the City, and at the Gates. At Nine o'Clock the Electoral College aſſembled at the Guildhall, and from thence, with his Electoral Highneſs of Mentz at their Head, they proceeded to the great Church of St Bartholomew; where, after hearing Maſs, and the Hymn Veni Creator, the auguſt College enter'd into the Conclave; but before they proceeded to an Election, Notice being taken that the Ambaſſadors of Brandenburgh and the Palatinate were not there, his Electoral Highneſs of Mentz order'd them to be twice called; once before the Oath was adminiſter'd, and again when the Electoral College were aſſembled in Conclave. They did not appear at either Summons; but inaſmuch as all that the Law of the Empire demanded, was, in this Caſe, complied with, the auguſt College proceeded to the Scrutiny in the accuſtom'd Manner, when all the Suffrages were found to be united in Favour of Francis-Stephen, Duke of Lorrain, Grand Duke of Tuſcany, Co-Regent of the Dominions of the Queen of Hungary, &c. After the Publication of the Election, the auguſt College returned to the Romer; and from thence his Electoral Highneſs, and their Excellencies, went in their Coaches to their reſpective Quarters. At Night in the Evening the Count de Wurmbrand, First Ambaſſador from Bohemia, gave a moſt magnificent Entertainment; at which his Electoral Highneſs of Mentz had a Canopy and Cloth of State, and their Excellencies Elbow-Chairs. After the Entertainment, there was an Illumination, which did not break up till it was very late. Yeſterday the Act of Election was engroſs'd, which will be carried to the new Emperor by the reigning Landgrave of Heſſe Darmſtadt,

Extract of a private Letter from Lyons, dated Sept. 3.

'The Murrain, or infectious Diſtemper, which raged ſo dreadfully laſt Year among our Cattle, begins again to ſhew itſelf in the Three Provinces of our Government, Lyonnois, Foret, and Beaujollois; nor as yet are we been able to diſcover any certain Cure. As by this dreadful Calamity we have already loſt the beſt and ſtrongeſt of our Black Cattle, we are obliged, contrary to our Cuſtom, and our Intereſt, to employ Horſes in all Sorts of Work; and as theſe are grown, on that very Account, extravagantly dear, it is eaſy to gueſs how much we are affected by this dreadful Calamity. We ſhould be more ſo, for want of Milk; but that our Peaſants have plenty of Goats, which affords them very ſeaſonable Relief at this Juncture. In the midſt of all our Evils, however, Corn is at a low Price, the Meaſure, weighing 50 Pounds, being ſold for 25 Pence; and as for Barley and Oats, they will ſcarce fetch any thing. As for Troops, we have hardly a Regiment left in our Neighbourhood; and if we had, they would not ſtay long, our Generals in Italy ſending Poſt after Poſt for Reinforcements; the King of Sardinia's Irregular Troops having cut off great Numbers, and being very ſeldom inclined to give any Quarter. We have ſent an Account of our Grievances, which are indeed very heavy, to Court; but our Hopes of Redreſs are not very ſanguine, while the War laſts. We learn from Grenoble, that both in that City, and in the adjacent Country of Dauphiny, there is a new Diſtemper broke out, which carries off abundance of People. They are at firſt taken with a Soreneſs in the Throat, where, in five Days time, a Burton riſes, by which they are ſuffocated. We are dreadfully afraid that this terrible Diſeaſe will ſpread itſelf to other Provinces; and it is ſaid, our Archbiſhop will ſhortly order ſolemn Prayers to be made to Heaven, to avert thoſe heavy Judgments, which our Sins might juſtly draw upon us from the Almighty.'

Bruſſels, September 20. Our Independent Companies have, within theſe few Days, gain'd conſiderable Booties, by harraſſing the French in their Retreat. The News of the Imperial Election has given our Troops ſuch Spirits, that they make no doubt of retrieving all that has been loſt, next Spring. General Gipſon, who commanded lately in Nieuport, has ſent his Son, who is an Officer in the Second of our new-raiſ'd Regiments, to Field-Marſhal Count Konigſegg, with the Capitulation upon which he has given up that important Place. We have, with much-a-do, obtained the following Particulars, in Relation to the Siege of that Place (if it may be ſo called) which we think ought to be publiſhed to the whole World. The Beſiegers having on the 3d of this Month begun to fire upon the Fort of Viervoet, from a Battery of five Pieces of heavy Cannon, and ſeven Mortars, the Captain, who commanded 200 Men therein, thought fit to leave it, and retire into the Town, without waiting for General Gipſon's Orders. The Enemy puſh'd on their Works ſo briskly, that on the 5th they were in a Condition to fire upon the Place; but the Commandant prevented them, by beating the Chamade at Five in the Evening, and ſending out Lieutenant-Colonel Wemmet, and Capt. Manſco, of the Regiment de Prie, to General Lowendahl, who, on his Part, ſent in a Lieutenant-Colonel and a Captain. He, from the Beginning, declared he would grant no other Terms than ſurrendering Priſoners of War; to which, about Twelve at Night, the Commandant conſented; tho' he might moſt certainly had the ſame Terms, if he had held out the Town a Week. This Sort of Conduct is very ſtrange; but it is believed the Court Martials which will be held in the Winter, will provide Remedies that will ſtop the Evil effectually for the future.

SCOTLAND.

From the CALEDONIAN MERCURY; dated Thurſday, September 12.

The Right Hon. the Lord Provoſt, Magiſtrates, and Council of this Metropolis met in Council on Monday Forenoon, and took under Conſideration his Majeſty's Royal Sign Manual, dated the 4th Inſtant, 'authorizing 'the Lord Provoſt, Magiſtrates, and Council of Edin'burgh, to raiſe, form, and diſcipline and maintain, at 'their own proper Charge, by voluntary Subſcription of 'them, and the other Burgeſſes and Inhabitants, 1000 'Foot, for the Defence of the City, and Support of his 'Majeſty's Government.'

The Hon. Magiſtrates having conſidered his Majeſty's Sign Manual, accepting of the Offer of the Inhabitants of Edinburgh to raiſe 1000 Men for his Majeſty's Service, to be employed for the Defence of the City, and in Support of the Government, againſt the Rebels; a Subſcription was opened in the Afternoon, and in two Hours, Money enough was ſigned for maintaining 600 Men; and one Month's Pay for them was advanced at ſubſcribing. The Subſcriptions are taken in at the Council-Chamber; and as a very great Zeal appears among the Inhabitants, they'll be very quickly completed.

A Subſcription-Paper for Volunteers was alſo open'd in the Old Kirk Iſle on Sunday in the Forenoon, to which a great Number of the principal Inhabitants crowded to ſign.

We hear that Captain Campbell of Inveraw ſeized laſt Week 1200 Weight of Gunpowder, which the Highlanders had left in Lochaber, not having Carriages to fetch forward.

Several Cannon are mounted on the Baſtions of the Walls of this City, by Order of the Magiſtrates; and others are planted at proper Places, as well as at the Gates. Fourteen Cannon are alſo brought to the Parliament Houſe.

On Saturday and Yeſterday the Remainder of the 6000 Stand of Arms, which came lately from London, were brought from Leith, and put into the Caſtle; as were ſeveral Cart-load of Ball, Powder, &c.

A broad and deep Trench is throwing up on the North of the Caſtle, leading from Wallace's Tower to the oppoſite Side of North Loch, in order to prevent all Acceſs to the City on that Quarter.

Laſt Week General Hamilton's Dragoons decamped from Bearford's Parks, and encamped on Leith Links. All the Gunpowder, &c. belonging to the Merchant Company at Leith, was taken out of their Magazine, and ſent up to the Caſtle, to prevent its falling into the Enemies Hands. The ſaid Regiment patroles each Night along the Coaſt as far as Muſſelburgh, &c.

The Inverneſs Mail goes now the Aberdeen Road, the Highlanders having ſecured the Weſtern Route. And it is ſaid there are a Parcel of neutral Banditti got up in Lochaber, &c. who, undervaluing both Kings and Kaiſors, rob indifferently the People of both Sides, who are ſo unhappy as to fall into their Clutches.

We learn from Stirling, that General Blakeney, who commands there, keeps very alert, and ſuffers none to paſs, to South or North, that can be in the leaſt ſuſpected. And we learn that Five Gentlemen, in paſſing thro' St. Ninians, on their Way to Stirling, were on Saturday apprehended and impriſoned.

It is adviſed from Perth, that laſt Wedneſday ſome of the Highland Army proclaimed the Chevalier as King, and his Son as Prince-Regent, at Nairn, over the Croſs; and that the Perſon who performed the Ceremony, exhorted the Inhabitants to complain, if any Inſult, or the leaſt Injuſtice, were offered them by any under their Commands; in which Caſe they ſhould receive ample Satisfaction and Reparation.

We hear that the young Chevalier entred Perth two Hours after the Ceremony; and that he was ſeen next Morning in Highland Dreſs. This ſeems certain from Paſſes given to People who have come from Perth, which run in theſe Terms; Charles, Prince of Wales, &c. Regent of Scotland, England, France and Ireland, and of the Dominions thereunto belonging. Theſe Paſſes are ſubſcribed by a Secretary, and carry a Royal Seal.

COUNTRY NEWS.

Briſtol, September 14. Laſt Sunday the Prince Frederick and Duke Privateers, with the Treaſure taken by them in the Louis Eraſmus and the Marquis d'Antin, from the South Seas, arrived in Kingroad, about Five in the Evening. They left their Convoy, the Falkland, Auguſta, and Saphire Men of War, the 7th in the Evening.

Theſe Privateers have on board the Bullion only; the Prize Ships, with their Merchandize of Cocoa, Cochineal, and other valuable Goods, are left at Kinſale. As ſoon as the Treaſure of Bullion is landed here, the Privateers are to return to Kinſale for the two Prize Ships. By the beſt Account we can learn of the Quantity of Money brought into the Road, 'tis 1263 Cheſts, ſome of which are of Gold. 491 Cheſts, about one Hundred two Quarters Weight each, are brought up from Kingroad, in the Vulture Privateer, under a ſtrong Guard of Marines and Sailors; as will the Remainder the Beginning of next Week, and lodg'd in the Cuſtom Houſe, till Waggons can be procured to carry it to London; for 'tis computed, that this immenſe Treaſure, is not leſs than 60 or 70 Waggon Loads.

By a Letter from on board the Briſtol Privateer, dated Sept. 5, we learn, that the Charming Molly, Kelly, of London, bound to Cape Breton, had been taken by the Francis, and another Privateer of St. Malo's, one of 28, and the other of 30 Guns, who ſuffered their Prize to be retaken within Sight of them, without offering the leaſt Annoyance. And by another Letter from on board the Briſtol, dated the 7th, we alſo learn, that the Generous was taken by the Mars Privateer, and that the Half of her which will fall to their Share, cannot be worth leſs than 5000 l. That as they were now left at Liberty to cruize where they think fit, they were on the full Stretch for the Coaſt of France, in purſuit of the Mars, and hoped to be up with her the 8th. The Mars carries 36 Guns, and 350 Men.

LONDON.

We learn from Conſtantinople, by the Way of Vienna, that the Grand Signor having found Means, by diſtributing Money amongſt the Janezaries, and other Arts, to quiet that Capital, was returned thither from his Country Palace. But the ſame Letters ſay, it was much doubted whether this Calm would continue long, as the Shah Nadir makes daily great Conqueſts in Armenia.

The Rejoicings at Franckfort, Cologn, and Bruſſels, on the Election of the King of the Romans, are ſaid to be beyond all Deſcription; and indeed, at the firſt and laſt of theſe Cities, they were ſo great, as to occaſion Reports of their being on Fire, from the Effect which Bonfires, Illuminations, and Fireworks had on the Eyes of People at a Diſtance, who did not reflect on the Cauſe.

By Letters from Munich we learn, that the Count de Germain is lately returned thither from the Court of Berlin, and is remarkably well received by the Elector; from whence it is ſuſpected, that the Report of his going into the Service of Pruſſia is groundleſs, and was only raiſed to colour his going to, and remaining ſo long, at Berlin, and in the Pruſſian Camp in Bohemia.

Laſt Saturday Mr. De Wit, one of his Majeſty's Meſſengers, arrived Expreſs from Vienna, with an Account, as we are informed, that Peace was actually concluded between the King of Pruſſia and her Hungarian Majeſty.

The Warwick, Power, from Carolina for London, was taken the 9th of Auguſt by a French Frigate from Breſt; who took out her Crew, and left her adrift about 135 Leagues from Dartmouth.
